From the PRESIDENT

Recently, several of us (Cheryl Kirk, Geoff Peters, Michelle Halverson and I) attended a Leadership Conference at the Olympic Training Center in Colorado Springs. The conference has not been held for the last couple of years, so it was good to see it reinstated. It's a great way to find out what we are doing well as a state and where we have gaps in our programs and service to our members. It is also a great place to get ideas.

Illinois has always done a great job when compared to the other states – generally performing at a Top 5 sort of level. This year, however, we found we have slipped a bit in how we are perceived because we do not currently have a formal, active referee certification program. A formal referee program would provide members easy access to referee clinics and provide opportunities to take the certification tests. This is something that we previously had but has fallen by the wayside. Therefore, we are hoping to get a program reinstated soon and have some potential candidates identified to head up that effort.

Here in Illinois we have reached the point where all tournament directors are now using the R2Sports system to manage tournaments. It makes all of the work connected to running a tournament so much easier to handle. One of the additional discussions we had in Colorado Springs was the ability to use the software for leagues. R2 has now been set up for clubs to use for regular leagues. Leagues can be sanctioned and matches included for ranking points.

As a state, we realized that we are behind in promoting and populating our ISRA Hall of Fame. We inducted two members in the last year (Diane DeArmas and TJ Ferro), but there are many more deserving folks out there. So, we have established procedures for defining candidates for the Hall of Fame as well as creating a method for members to nominate individuals.

Listed below is some information regarding the Hall of Fame.

OBJECTIVE

The objective of the ISRA Hall of Fame is to recognize and honor those individuals who have demonstrated outstanding achievement in many areas of the sport. Those areas include, but are not limited to, playing ability, sportsmanship, leadership and development. The award is based upon years of consistent excellence in one or more of these areas. Only two individuals shall be inducted in a calendar year.

CRITERIA FOR NOMINATION

The person must have been involved in Racquetball on a State, Regional or National level for a minimum of ten years from the time they either became a USAR or ISRA member and must have maintained their membership during the ten years. Minimum age for induction is 35 years as of the date of induction at the ISRA State Singles Tournament. Accomplishments that would make an individual eligible for nomination include successful amateur performance at the State, Regional and National levels; teaching, coaching or innovations; promotion of the game; administration/representation for the sport; and working for the good of racquetball.

Full criteria and nomination procedures can be found on www.illinoisracquetball.com. Please review these and consider nominating a deserving individual. Hall of Fame members will be inducted during the Annual Awards ceremony each year.

The new tournament season is upon us. ISRA State Singles and Doubles will be held at Glass Court in 2010. In 2011, we will be heading south to Peoria for the State Doubles tournament. Plan to be there – a road trip is always fun!

Four Attend USAR Leadership Conference

In September, Illinois was well represented at the USA Racquetball Leadership Conference in Colorado Springs at the US Olympic Training Center. Twenty-two states attended to collaborate with USA Racquetball on present and future initiatives.

Remembering Bill Schram

In early September, we lost a long-time member of our racquetball family. William R. "Buzz" Schram, who was very active in racquetball in the '80's and '90's, recently passed away at 72 years old. Bill, also known as "The Buzzard," started playing racquetball in 1978 at the age of 42 and by the early 1980's, he was starting to place in the state and regional master's tournaments. By the 1990's, he was winning singles and doubles events, taking first place in the 55+ State Singles four years in a row. Dave Milazzo remembers, "Bill was a humble and good man who played a lot of ISRA events in the '70's and '80's. I always enjoyed playing and talking with him."

Bill's wife, children and stepchildren remember him as someone who loved to tell jokes and riddles. In addition to racquetball, he also played golf and tennis. They have fond memories of watching Bill at tournaments and were amazed to meet some of the Chicago Bears at a Revie Sorey tournament. The family will plant a tree at Glass Court in memory of Bill. Dan Jaskier, owner of Glass Court, remarked, "Bill was a long-time member who played in many tournaments and also taught lessons, clinics, and donated a lot of his free time."

May Bill rest in peace alongside his son Bill, Jr. who passed away in the mid '80's.

Trolley for TJ

On the first weekend in November, a team of supporters represented racquetball in a fun walk for cancer as they rolled into Naperville in style. The Lungevity Foundation held its 7th annual Lung Cancer Walk and Rally dedicated to those who are fighting lung cancer and to the 150,000+ people who die of lung cancer each year. Nearly $60,000 was raised through the efforts of many individuals and teams.

Barbara Curran organized a team of walkers, and Jim Wehrli arranged for the trolley. They named the group "Trolley for TJ" in honor of TJ Ferro, who is currently fighting the battle. It was a beautiful Saturday as the walkers met at LA Fitness and boarded the trolley, bells ringing, to ride downtown and make an entrance as a team. A very special thank you goes to Annette Wehrli Kennedy (aka Trolley Chick) of Naperville Trolley & Tours, Ltd. (www.napervilletrolley.com) for her hospitality. Other sponsors included Prudential (Phil Curran), Marriott (Mary Metcalf), LA Fitness Naperville (Dominic Serpe), and Trader Joe's Naperville.

Fox Run Golf Course
Elk Grove Village
August 29, 2009

It seems like only yesterday that we were out playing golf a couple times a week, some more often than that. This summer was too short and there weren't enough rain-free days to enjoy all of our outdoor activities. But we beat the odds on holding the ISRA Golf Outing this year with a pretty nice day and a decent turnout of all-around good golfers. The rain held off and everyone finished their rounds with plenty of time left to attend the banquet that followed. Dennis Negrete and Janet Christie were on hand to ensure a successful outing and were able to join us on the course. The food was fantastic, and all golfers received a nice souvenir for their participation.

The men's foursome that won Low Net consisted of Doug Halverson, Dan Flood,

Ron Calloway and Rob Lee. The women's foursome winning Low Net was Laurel Davis, Nancy Amaro, Connie Arvia, and Barb Utterback. Men's Closest to the Pin was won by Ron Calloway (who also traveled the farthest) and Women's Closest to the Pin was claimed by Nancy Amaro. Men's Longest Drive went to Dan Flood and Women's Longest Drive to Barb Utterback.

Although the turnout was fewer than in past years, everyone had a good time and many expressed interest in having future outings. The ISRA will certainly attempt to make that happen in 2010!

Special thanks go out to our corporate sponsors: Cheryl Kirk and Kit Lawson (C. Kirk Consulting), Tom Barr (Platinum Restoration – see ad this issue), Golf Clubs Fore Less (www.golfclubsforeless.com) and Ektelon. I also could not have accomplished this without help from our ISRA President, Laurel Davis, and ISRA Treasurer, Michelle Halverson. We all worked hard in a short amount of time to put together a fun time for all our "racquetball" golfers!

John LoMonaco Memorial Grant

Reminder: For players who have never been to National Singles in Houston, check out the most recent USA Racquetball eNewsletter. An all-expenses paid trip (up to $2,000) to the USAR National Singles Championships in Houston, Texas, May 26-31, 2010 has been anonymously donated by a friend of John LoMonaco of West Hills, California. Mr. LoMonaco, an avid racquetball player, passed away on May 5, 2009 at the age of 57.

The recipient of the John LoMonaco Memorial Grant may be male or female and must be at least 18 years of age and a U.S. citizen. He/she will submit an application and write an essay of 500 words or less expressing why he/she wants to attend National Singles next May.

Full details and the application form can be found at usaracquetball.com. The deadline for submissions is December 31, 2009, with the recipient announced on or before February 28, 2010.

The 2009 Halloween Classic was held at Forest View Racquet Club, Halloween weekend and a great time was had by all. Although the turnout was low, the competition was great. The tournament was an IRT satellite and the pro division was taken by Juan Martinez III. Juan defeated Alok Mehta in a hard-fought final. It was Juan's first IRT professional win. Scott Fauque took the Men's A title in a come-from-behind victory over Josh Cohen. Both players displayed Open level racquetball skills and it won't be long before they're both regularly competing in that division. The Men's B crown was claimed by Antonio Vasquez as he beat Shane O'Connell in a tough 11-7 tie breaker. Both players are very quick and needed to play four matches to get to the final. The Men's C division was a battle of LA Fitness Naperville competitors as Dan Musgrove won an 11-10 tiebreaker to take the first place win over Brian Lien. The Men's D was a round robin victory for Alcides Gutierrez. This tournament will be on the calendar again next year and hopefully will regain the following of years past. A special thanks to Diane Bunker for her help during the weekend.

SLAM IT for SUSAN

The Lattof YMCA began Breast Cancer Awareness Month by hosting the Third Annual Slam it for Susan. There were over 60 participants who turned out to play in this event and for their donations received lots of pink goodies: pink socks, pink water bottles, pink headbands, pink keychains and Race for the Cure shirts.

It was a night for remembering Susan Mertes and all the other women who have, and have not, survived their fight against breast cancer. Challenge courts were set up for every level of racquetball enthusiast with three set aside for women only. Wilson Sporting Goods donated Pink Hope Balls for the event, and that was the ball being slammed around all evening.

Janet Leet, Art Michaely, Margaret Hoff, Dave Kronenfeld, Ray Markus

and Nancy Kronenfeld checked in all the players and endeavored to make sure everyone got in lots of playing time or, if a court wasn't available, made sure they had plenty to eat! Dennis Negrete strung racquets, giving back a generous donation to Susan G. Komen for the Cure from what he collected that evening. Chris Evon was there representing Wilson and her new personal training business. Thanks to Wilson Sporting Goods, Gearbox, Susan G. Komen for the Cure, Pam Grace, Geoff Peters, Dave Kronenfeld and Dennis Negrete for providing silent auction items. Also, a huge thanks goes to Rick Colletti for donating awesome pizza from his restaurant, Colletti's.

When the night was over, $2,400 had been raised with $1,600 donated to Susan G. Komen for the Cure and $800 donated to the Lattof YMCA in Susan Mertes' memory. We are so grateful for the support we received from everyone this year and we hope you'll come on out next year for the 4th Annual "Slam it for Susan!"

Deaf Racquetball Tournament

Sponsored by West Suburban Association for the Deaf

The Glass Court Swim & Fitness, Lombard
October 17, 2009

How many of us in "mainstream" Illinois racquetball are aware of this brotherhood and sisterhood known across the country as the National Racquetball Association of the Deaf? In fact, Illinois resident Jim Fleming (along with Co-Chair Steve Horwich) is preparing to act as host to the NRAD's 25th Anniversary Tournament scheduled for May 14-16, 2010 at Schaumburg Tennis Plus (Woodfield) and Forest View Racquet & Fitness Club (Arlington Heights). This Chicagoland location is fitting since the very first NRAD tournament took place here in 1984 at the Charley Club in Palatine.

Tournament organizers and sponsors prepare for a great day of racquetball

Following a committee meeting in the morning, players took to the courts to compete in the three divisions. The love of the game was evident as fingers flew and scores were declared via hand signals on the courts. Below are the winners and runners-up, which conveniently serve as captions (left to right, notice the fingers) for the three pictures!

Retrospective View of the History of Racquetball

by Philip Dziuk

Editor's Note: I caught up with Phil Dziuk in Champaign/Urbana at the NMRA International Championship in July. At my invitation, Phil graciously provided this account of his memories of racquetball that go right back to the very beginning! Enjoy... ck

In 1969 I had been playing paddleball for several years in the very small courts in the basement of Huff Gym on the University of Illinois campus. The courts were about 20 feet long and 12 feet wide and the ceiling was about 8 feet high. The ball was a tennis ball with the fuzz removed and the paddle was about 15 inches long and 8 inches wide. I noticed in the Sunday paper that there was to be a tournament of racquetball to be played in St. Louis at the Jewish Center. One of my fellow paddleball players and I decided to enter to see what it was like. We had never played on a regulation court or seen any other players or games. The courts seemed gigantic. To prepare for this new experience we had bought some cheap tennis racquets and cut off the handles. We paid our entry fee, about $10, and entered. In that first tournament, every player had been playing with different rules and different balls and different racquets. Some reported that a tournament had been played earlier in Milwaukee.

Our first opponents were two young fellows who knew what they were doing and had played before (we had not). We got a few points and learned some pointers. Joe Sobek has been credited with inventing the game earlier by modifying handball rules. Former paddle players such as Charlie Brumfield and Bud Muehleisen dominated the game and the tournament.

We returned home and licked our wounds. At the nearby Chanute Air Force Base there was a standard-sized court and some players so we would drive up there about once a week and play. Several persons in the Chicago area and St. Louis and Madison began developing interest and arranging tournaments. Soon the game with some local modifications was being played throughout the USA. The handball association took racquetball under its wing and news of racquetball and handball were published in one magazine. Some of the persons involved in handball were the first officers of the racquetball group. Chuck Leve was the editor of the racquetball section.

Courts were being built in the '70's and '80's, and it appeared that money could be made in connection with racquetball. As a consequence, this attracted those who were interested in promoting racquetball but also those who thought they might make money by some means. The outcome of games was often the subject of considerable wagers, particularly in tournaments. It was disconcerting to learn that a considerable sum had been bet on you and you lost.

The money sometimes influenced the bias of the referees in officiated matches. In one instance of which I am familiar, a doubles match was not going the way the potential losers wanted it to go. One of these signaled to a friend in the gallery to remove the young (honest) referee and take his place. Because of political and financial considerations involved, the game turned around 180 degrees and the (former) potential winners could not score another point. The game was over before the potential winners (aka eventual losers) knew what happened.

Most of the courts had been designed for handball and were in YMCAs or private clubs. Equipment has improved tremendously over the years. Early balls broke at the slightest provocation. Bounce varied and there were balls that could be pumped up. Some were quite heavy and inflicted a very nasty bruise if you happened to stop it in flight. Racquets were of plastic and aluminum and were really disposable.

Tournaments were arranged by interested groups. Everyone was thrown into the same pot without regard for age or experience or skill. Tournaments were single elimination, so one might enter, play a match, be put in the consolation and then be a spectator or go home. Games were to 21 points and the match was 2 out of 3. You could play a lot of racquetball in a three-day tournament. Trophies were large and showy. Playing strategies and skills were very basic — hit the ball to the front wall by skill brute force or by chance. Rules have not change significantly but have only been fine-tuned to adjust to changing circumstances. Some players screened the ball or deliberately took the ball in the back.

In general, racquetball has developed into a reasonably gentle game considering the close proximity and contact in a confined area. The Masters tournaments have evolved into a no referee/call your own game.

I remember a time when Sam

Caiaza and Gene Grapes invited about ten teams to Newcastle, Pennsylvania to play doubles for three days. Luke St. Onge was the referee. The housing, meals and court costs were covered by a raffle on the last day at a community banquet. Tournament winners required special baggage handling because the trophy was so huge.

One tournament was memorable for an incident related to the limousine that always picked up the players from the airport. Two players from Dallas arrived at the airport and looked for the limousine while prominently displaying their racquets and equipment bags. After a long wait, they finally called and asked about the limousine, only to find out that they had arrived one week too early.

There are a thousand stories and anecdotes of players and games. I have personally played in thousands of games on a friendly competitive basis against and with thousands of fellow players. I play for the fun of it, but I have more fun when I win. Sometimes I have more fun than at other times. In a period of over 40 years, I have set out to win against the opponent as a person in only two instances. In one case, the fellow was the host at his club. I went to go into the hospitality room and he told me I couldn't go in because he didn't know me. He viewed me as a threat to his dominance in the tournament. He was slightly overweight and as it turned out, we ended up playing for the championship. I felt he should "pay" for his poor manners, so I did not kill the ball, I only returned it over and over and over until he was unwilling to even make a motion toward the ball.

A second individual was a very rough player and I noticed he was running into his opponents, crowding and generally making it a physically punishing game. At one point as we were playing, I passed him and a few seconds later he threw a body block into me that threw me to the floor, knocking the wind out of me; he claimed a hinder. A little later, I passed him again, but this time I stepped aside at the last second and he missed me and ran into the wall full tilt. His head wound required many stitches.

I watched a match in which one of the players contested every point and every shot. At the end of the match, the complainer stated that the last point would have to be played over again. His opponent smiled and said, "We will have to play it in the locker room, because that is where I will be." These and a few other bad experiences are the exception rather than the rule. I have shaken the hands of thousands of opponents and partners after each game and match. There are few other sports that can claim this degree of civility.

Phil D is a retired professor. The initials Ph.D. fit the name. He received his Ph.D. in 1955, which is before most students were born. He has advised many undergraduate and graduate students, served on NIH and USDA study sections and on editorial review boards, helped organize many conferences and has been a participant in many conferences. For this he has received awards. Dr. Dziuk also is an accomplished racquetball player. He has won many medals in competitions.

James B. Dvorak Award

Mr. James B. Dvorak was an individual who supported racquetball and especially loved to watch young people play. Through the generosity of the Dvorak family, a scholarship is awarded annually in Mr. Dvorak's memory to a deserving junior player (18 years of age and under) who exhibits high standards in the areas of racquetball participation, sportsmanship, community service and scholastic achievement. The $500 scholarship is intended to be used to supplement the cost of the award recipient's education.

The 2009/2010 winner will be announced at the ISRA Annual Awards Ceremony at the ISRA State Singles Championships on February 27, 2010. Entries will be accepted through January 15, 2010.

Past winners include Kevin Schultz, Jake Sutton, Trevor Snyders, Geoff Goldblatt, Vinny Carvallo, Jeremy Dixon and Noor Michael.

To request an application, please email Junior Team Illinois (JTI) President Barry Dixon at bdixon@holophane.com. Remember, you must apply to be considered!

Lend Your SUPPORT

Your membership in the ISRA has helped make our organization second to none.

Though we strive to make improvements to build and grow the sport for future success, we sometimes struggle to keep our heads above water as an organization. Our focus is not for the purpose of monetary gain but to generate enough funds to give back quality, first-rate programs, tournaments and events we can all be proud to participate in. Our volunteers who donate their time and/or money are greatly appreciated as are those who advertise in this ISRA Newsletter. For as little as $25 for a business card size ad, we can help get your name out there to let everyone know what you do; for $150, we can run your ad on a full page. Help Us Help You by getting your ad into the next ISRA newsletter.

Many thanks,

Advertising Editor

Attention ISRA MEMBERS!

The ISRA Newsletter has transitioned to an electronic format. As you know, it is presently available on www.illinoisracquetball.com. We may, however, move to an email (members only) format in the near future. Please take the opportunity now to update your USA Racquetball membership profile, most especially supplying your current email address so you don't miss any issues of this cutting edge publication!

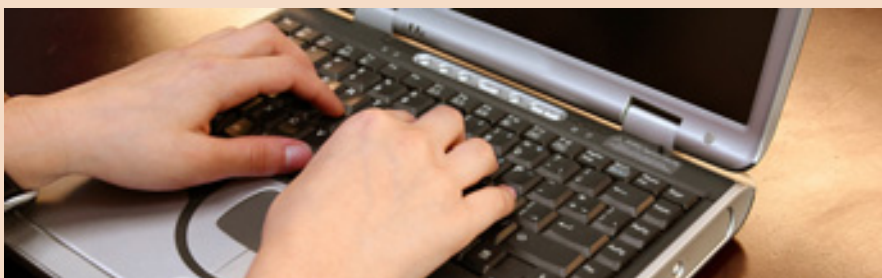

Please follow the steps below to update your profile:

1. Log into www.usra.org
2. Select Membership Login in the upper left hand box
3. Enter your six-digit USAR membership number and password*
4. Update the information in the profile
5. Click on Edit Contact Info
6. Log out

Now, wasn't that easy?

*If you don't know or have misplaced your membership number and/or password, contact Heather Izzett at hizzett@usra.org.

Thanks for taking the time...and be sure to visit www.illinoisracquetball.com for tournament schedule revisions and competition results.
